

Suppose you take time to figure out what became of your last month's salary. How much of it was banked and how much of it passed out of your hands for things you could have done without?

All of the "Captains of Industry" we read about today are men who early in life learned to bank their money instead of spending it foolishly.

Saving, like spending, is a habit, and right now is the time for you to trade a bad one for a good one.

HILLSBORO

On last Saturday, October 8th, one of the happiest and most interesting social events of the year took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Beard. The occasion being the celebration of the anniversary of the ninetieth birthday of Mr. Beard's grandmother, Mrs. Mary G. Beard.

A dinner was served in her honor at the noon hour, those present were her only living son, M. L. Beard, her only two living first cousins, Mrs. Nannie Beard and J. McNeel, and her life-long friend, Mrs. Wm. H. Aldridge.

In the afternoon a reception from two to five was given by Mrs. Beard to her grandmother, at which a number of friends and relatives were invited.

Mrs. Beard is a remarkable woman for her age—ninety years young. She attends all the services of her beloved church, reads the daily newspaper and takes an active interest in all the affairs of the neighborhood and county.

The evangelistic services conducted at the Presbyterian church by Rev. J. C. Lacy will continue this week and close on Sunday night. Mr. Lacy is preaching with great power, and great interest is manifested by the large crowds which attend every night.

Rev. J. C. Johnson and M. L. Beard, delegates from Oak Grove church attended the meeting of Synod of West Virginia at Lewisburg on Wednesday.

A large crowd attended the distribution of the Hereford calves to the boys and girls of this county at Twin Maples, the stock farm of F. P. Kidd, last Monday at which twelve beautiful helper calves were distributed to twelve boys and girls of the county.

Lee Malcomb of Richmond, is visiting his father, John W. Malcomb.

Fire Notice

As you have been apprised through the Times and other sources of the extreme misfortune that I met at midnight of the 6th of October, losing through fire my store houses and entire stock of goods, residence, and near whole destruction of household equipment, and practically no insurance to cover my losses, I request that all those who owe me on open account or otherwise will come forward and settle at once. I am in extreme need of this money, as my resources consist almost entirely of these outstanding accounts. My friends who have not paid me as I have done in so many cases to accommodate them, I request you to pay me now. Let us all work together. Don't say, I will not pay unless I get good service. Who is going to work for nothing? If you want the job come on: you are the fellow we are looking for.

Mr. Smith will treat you right. He will give you ten days' notice to come forward and pay your dues, or will give you 4 months time by you giving your note with interest and good security so we can take the note to the bank and get the money. What could be fairer than this. I am your friend your friend and you can't help but say it. You have elected me against my protest as the one to see that our line is kept up. Now do come along and help me to make it a line that is a credit to our county. We think that everyone will see this in the right light and pay their account in the specified time. No other company will keep you on without pay, neither can this one exist much longer without pay. So don't expect James Gibson and a few others that have paid in advance to keep the line up for you when you get the same service. Now we are expecting a good report from Mr. Smith in a few days.

Thanking you in advance for cooperating with us, I remain yours very respectfully.

L. D. SHARP.
